SITUATION ALARMING.

Yellow Fever Shows No Cessation. Four Deaths Today in New Orleans.

WEYLER CERTAINLY RECALLED

Will Disgrace Cuba No Longer By His Hatred Presence.

SENATOR DENIES IN WASHINGTON.

There were three deaths from yellow fever yesterday at New Orleans and one death at Mobile. Twenty-nine new cases were reported at New Orleans, seven at Mobile, four at Grand Bay, nineteen at Edwards, two at McLeary, three at Fontainebleau, twenty-eight at Balak and a suspicious case at Grand Bay, near Mobile.

New Orleans, Oct. 2.—The spread of the yellow fever is very alarming, and the people of this city are greatly aroused. There have been four deaths today and many new cases in this city.

Madrid, Oct. 2.—It is announced as a certainty that General Weyler has been recalled from Cuba.

ARMOND

Lowest the Track Record at Princeton.

Princeton, Ky., Oct. 1.—The third day of the Caldwell county fair was marked by one of the best crowds ever assembled on the grounds. In the show ring some fine specimens of thoroughbred brood mares and general purpose animals were shown, as well as a good lot of high bred colts and fillies.

The racing was spirited and some exciting finishes were made.

In the 2:30 trot the track record was broken by Ammond, owned by Gus Thompson, of Paducah, in 2:27, and considering the dusty track it was fast time.

Summary:

First race—Undisputed 2:30 pace. Final heat and race won by Asteria in 2:32.

Second race—Mile dash, running. Don Pedro won. Fannie Miss second. Time, 1:52 1/2.

Third race—2:30 trot, heat three is five. Won by Ammond, with Mary Gill second. Time, 2:27, 2:28.

Fourth race—In the third heat of this race St. Just fouled Ammond and horse, drivers and sulkes all piled in a heap on the home stretch, and Mary Gill, a rank outsider, won in the slow time of 2:39.

Fourth race—Two in three heats for 2-year-old trotters or pacers. Won by Mayor in 1:55.

In the novelty two-mile bicycle race C. E. Tandy, of Hopkinsville, won the first two quarters; A. Roberts, of Henderson, last two quarters. First half, 1:26; mile, 3:06.

THE POPE QUITE ILL.

Doctors Fear He Cannot Recover From Present Illness.

London, Oct. 1.—The "Globe" this afternoon says that the Pope's weakness is increasing and that the church dignitaries are afraid he will not rally from the extreme feebleness and exhaustion he now betrays.

The W. K. Phillips was away for Cairo this morning on time doing a very good freight business.

The dredge boat begins dredging out the chute at the head of the Island Monday.

Capt. Given Fowler received a telegram from Nashville yesterday afternoon wanting ship carpenters.

The Mary N. goes to the bank tomorrow until better water makes its appearance.

Pilot Alex Woolfolk, of the ferry boat, was taken home sick yesterday afternoon. Capt. Austin Owen is filling his place.

Mr. John Blaire, of the harbor boat, Mary N. leaves Monday for Nashville where he will spend several days at the Centennial.

The towpackets, Blucky Bay and Eureka are due here this afternoon. The former from Toledo, and the latter out of the Cumberland River. The Eureka is expected to have a big trip of hauling lumber.

Thirty-two inches is the best water to be found in the Tennessee at present. The steamer Tennessee is only able to make her trip with the aid of a lighter, her officers report the water to be very thin in that stream and still falling slowly.

The palatial new steamer Tennessee leaves here this afternoon at 4 o'clock enroute up the Tennessee River to Waterloo. She is expected to carry a big freight trip as usual.

The Ashland City arrived here late yesterday afternoon out of the Tennessee after spending several hours upon a sand bar. She left on her return to Danville at 6 p. m. with a fair freight trip.

The H. W. Buttrif left last night at 10 o'clock en route up the Tennessee to Danville, where she will run in the place of the Edgar Cherry, which is laid up on account of low water.

The Cherry's people seem to be having a little trouble in securing a suitable host. They first secured the P. D. Shags, which had to retire several days ago owing to a broken shaft; then they got the Luis E. Warren, which proved to be a failure in the trade and now as the last resort have taken the handsome Buttrif.

Some one asked Capt. Dave Woods, general commander of the fast and palatial steamer Eureka, if he carried ice water on his boat.

He replied the Captain, what's the use when there is a spring about every half mile on the Cumberland River, and when we get thirsty we go to the spring for a drink. "Well, isn't that a heap of trouble landing the boat just for a drink?" he was asked. "Oh, no," he said, "we know where the springs are located and when we get thirsty we get the skiff and row ahead of the boat, get a drink and by that time she is up even with you, and all you have to do is to pull out the wheel without stopping her wheel at all. Every body knows the Eureka is unsurpassed as to speed."

HE SAYS IT'S PURE OLD GOLD

Government Assayist Says Larue's Nuggets are Good.

Hodgenville, Ky., Oct. 2.—That there is gold in Larue county hills is made certain by the report just made on sample ore sent to the government assayist by J. P. McGee, of the Athens neighborhood. It is just a question of how rich the ore is. The ore taken out by Mr. McGee was the top surface outcropping, and made no effort to dig for it at all. The ore sent ran about $2 to the ton, valueless, but Mr. McGee will find a pay lode without any trouble or much expense.

This seems to confirm the impression that there is gold in the hills of Hodgenville, which is situated on the same chain of mountains as Larue county.

Secretary of State Fiske positively announced his candidacy for congress in the 21st district.

The American Protective Tariff League has just issued another and very complete edition of our tariff laws. This volume of 144 pages, gives the official text of the Dingley tariff; complete comparison of the Dingley and Wilson laws; and index to all articles covered by the new tariff. The book will be of great value for reference and for answering all questions regarding the tariff question. It will be sent to any address for 25 cents. Ask for document No. 27, and address The American Protective Tariff League, 135 West 33rd Street, New York.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Commonwealth's Attorney.
Sam Houston is a candidate for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney for the second judicial district comprising one of the judicial and Marshall counties at the November election.

It is not surprising that the silver camp meeting in Ohio was a failure in view of the fact that the farmers in the United States exported in August more of their products than they exported in the corresponding month of the two preceding years combined.

The Secretary of the Treasury was offered $2,000,000 in gold at San Francisco, but replied, "Don't need it." How quickly a former Secretary of the Treasury would have pounced upon it. Anybody can see the changes seven months have wrought, and be glad of the difference. The man who can't see it is blind.—Chicago Inter Ocean. And some of those blind people are right now going up and down through Kentucky predicting Bryan's election in 1900 upon the Chicago platform.

RETAILERS in the manufacturing and agricultural districts report an enormously increased business since the enactment of the new tariff law and the increased employment which has followed. Between the growth in earnings of the people employed in manufacturing districts and the good prices which farmers are getting for their grain, business is good with the retailers, and, as a consequence, with all classes in the mercantile and manufacturing communities of the country.

This is the way Mr. Bland looks at the money question, which shows that the great leader will be apt to be in the Populist party by 1900. He says: "If that (referring to the free coinage of silver) does not furnish a sufficient circulating medium, I would issue paper money, and I would have that paper money like the old greenbacks—redeemable in nothing but gold and good legal-tender for all debts—public and private."

This report from Spain now makes it perfectly apparent that President McKinley's attitude on the Cuban question is going to be clear, vigorous, and of a character that every American citizen will approve. Not only is he entering on a course which will bring permanent peace and prosperity to Cuba and the Cubans, but one which will meet with the approval of the intelligent nations of the earth and avoid the hostilities and criticisms which would have been certain to follow had any ill-considered action been taken without careful examination of all the facts and equally careful consideration as to the course of duty and wisdom.

Nobody who voted for McKinley has been heard to complain during the last six days of the result of that vote. Since the enactment of the protective tariff which the election of McKinley assured, manufacturers have resumed on full time, and increased wages in many cases, business houses report their sales larger than in any year since McKinley times, and the only complaint which the banks have to offer is that they cannot find enough customers for the money which they have to loan. This is in marked contrast with the conditions in the corresponding period of the Cleveland administration, when banks were breaking, business houses closing, and manufacturers reducing forces or suspending operations all together.

As to that $1,000 check which McLean and Chapman, of Ohio, are said to have drawn in favor of William Jennings Bryan: It is now suggested that probably the check was given to induce Mr. Bryan to keep out of the state. It is observed that he is making two speeches a day in Iowa and casting his eyes longingly in the direction of Ohio, but doesn't get there. It is also announced that his rival candidate for the presidential nomination of 1900, ex-Congressman Towne, has already been ordered off the stump and out of the state by the manager of the Ohio Democratic campaign, the Honorable Allan O. Myers, and it is shrewdly suspected that Mr. Bryan's absence from Ohio as well has been obtained by some more effective process than a mere ejectment.

Nothing further is heard about that proposed retaliatory legislation in Argentina with reference to the United States and her imports into that country. Nor is there any realization of the great commercial troubles between the United States and other foreign countries which the free-traders were predicting as a result of the new tariff. Sixty days have passed since it went into operation and nothing has happened to prevent the steady inflow and outflow of commerce between the two nations. The fact that the United States proves the best market with most of these foreign countries will prevent their taking any action which would disturb their own business relations or reduce the market which their people have in the United States for their productions.

Considering that the Dingley law found the warehouses and shelves of the country crowded with foreign goods when it went into operation, its second month is proving very satisfactory and gratifying. The receipts for the month will, it is expected, surpass those of the corresponding month in the history of the Wilson law, although that law had the advantage of the revenues from large quantities of foreign goods which were held back prior to its enactment and rushed into the country as soon as it went upon the statute books, while precisely the reverse conditions prevailed when the Dingley law went into operation. The deficit in the second month of the Wilson law was $1,000,000, while in the second month of the Dingley law there is a deficit of only $3,450,717. There is every reason to believe that the Dingley law will provide sufficient revenue to meet all running expenses when matters resume their normal condition.

A FAMOUS CASE.
The trial of Luertger, the Chicago sausage maker, for the murder of his wife will probably be one of the famous cases in criminal law. It was supposed in the early part of the trial that the evidence of Luertger's guilt was so conclusive that the trial would have been concluded long before this and that the verdict would have been given. But it is evident that but little was known of the resources of the defendant's lawyers. The woman supposed to have been murdered was traced to the fatal building. The rings found and proved to have been taken from the vat, where her body was believed to have been destroyed, were positively identified as those worn by the missing woman. A cause was supposed to have been found for the terrible murder. The instruments of death were produced in court. All was complete, but one thing. The defense claimed that the woman was yet alive, that she had been seen since the night of the alleged murder. As lawyers say, the corpse delicti had not been proven.

Colored Dress Goods...

The clever dressers of Paducah have long since determined their preference for trading here, where they always find the greatest variety of high class goods from which to make a selection. This year we have taken greater pains than ever to secure the best for our patrons. The new fall styles are superlatively beautiful, and the ladies are already in love with them and fast picking out their preferences. Suppose you come in and pick out yours?

New... Fall Hosiery.

Plaid hose are the latest fad. We have them for ladies and children. Also a large line of school hose. Nothing that is not the correct quality in this department. Our strongest lines are our ladies' and children's hose at 25 cents. We also think that we have the best 10-cent hose in Paducah.

We have just received a lot of Roman stripe and plaid percales. They are the very latest patterns out in these goods.

professor testified that the one remaining bone that was proved to have come from the fatal Ant, was that of a woman. A professor, equally as expert, on the other side testified that the bone was that of a dog. To test the expert knowledge of the latter professor, the prosecution introduced into court the skull of a dog and asked the expert professor to identify it. He pronounced it to be the skull of a monkey, and the prosecution rejoiced.

Thus the case goes, and the result will probably be that Luertger, whom all the reading public nearly believe to be guilty, will escape.

Money Orders and Savings Banks.

In the office of the superintendent of the money order system of the general postoffice at Washington is evidence which will convince the most skeptical that there exists, especially in the West, a demand for a government institution where the savings of the people may be deposited.

The money order system was established for the accommodation of the people—those who do not enjoy bank accounts and cannot forward money by checks. While the object of the system was purely to facilitate the transaction of business by offering at a small cost the medium for transmitting money, experience has demonstrated that it is an infrequently used to guard the savings of those who are not without easy reach of banks, or fear to trust their hard earned dollars to the keeping of banks.

Many orders are often obtained by persons who have a few dollars to lay away. This is made evident by the operation of the law, which declares a money order void when not presented for payment within one year.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

It is a strange state of affairs that prevails in this county, as well as many other counties in the neighborhood. The farmers find themselves between the devil and the deep blue sea, as it were. In the day time their tobacco and other crops are parched and baked and burned by the sun, and at night they are drenched and blighted and ruined by the frost. It is difficult to determine, when a crowd of farmers get to talking, which has damaged them more, the sun in the daytime, or jack frost at night.

The drought in Kentucky seems far reaching and severe, and those who have been praying for rain have come to the conclusion that Providence must have gotten hold of some of the comic papers and decided that water is no solution used in Kentucky it would be wasting the celestial water supply to send us a rain. If something isn't done with those wit and caricatures, there's no telling what will become of the country.

The man who refuses to put an advertisement in the paper because he says it doesn't pay is usually the first one to come around for the purpose of exterminating the reporter or force when his name appears in the police court report.

And didn't really know that the clanking of the triple-plated gubernatorial tarsi that has been hanging suspended about his waist by a single hair was about to break loose and scare him out of the shades of political oblivion to be consigned himself on to that moribund when the Callaway county court house was irrigated with salty tears of regret.

How is the above clipped from a contemporary for a beautifully mixed metaphor? Think of a clanking triple-plated gubernatorial tarsi hanging like the sword of Damocles by one stray hair. And just conceive, if you can, of what a calamity would ensue were this sword-like gubernatorial tarsi, suspended by a single hair, to break loose. According to the above if it were to break loose somebody would get scared out of the shades of political oblivion. It is not just settled that the shades of political oblivion are, but they are common talk these days, and we are told that the gentleman above consigned himself to them because the Callaway county court house, a memorial with salty tears of regret.

U. S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Smith Will Move to Louisville and Locate.

Hon. W. M. Smith sold his home, some brick residence on North street, Wednesday, Mr. R. H. Gardner at a consideration of $3,000, and is moving to Louisville, Ky. Mr. Gardner sold his residence on West Broadway to Mr. J. L. Stinson for $1,500. Mr. Smith is preparing to move to Louisville for permanent residence and will give Mr. Gardner possession in about two weeks. Mr. Smith will open a law office there when his term as U. S. district attorney is out which is next February. His present plan is to form a partnership with his son Harry and Terry and the general law practice. Harry has already graduated in the Louisville law school and taken a post graduate course in the University of Virginia, and Terry will enter the Louisville law school this fall. The young men are bright fellows and in time will doubtless rival the proficiency of their father in the law profession.

Every one in Graves county will be sorry to lose the citizenship of Mr. Smith and family; but will be gratified to learn of their prosperity in Louisville.

Chas. Leverter, a barber employed at Jones' shop, on Broadway, was arrested last night about 12 o'clock on a charge of attempted rape.

He is charged with having gone to the residence of Ben Hardin, on South Second street, opposite the Langstaff & Crane's mill, and after taking unlocked the door to a room in which Emma Hardin, a niece of Hardin, was asleep. He succeeded in getting into the bed, and the girl's screams aroused her cousin, Ben Hardin, Jr., in an adjoining room. He ran to her rescue, and kicking Leverter out struck him with a flat iron. Leverter was left for dead, but when Hardin surrendered to the police, thinking he had killed him, the latter was found at his home on Tennessee street.

He has been out of the penitentiary for a year or more, where he was sent for obtaining money by false pretenses. He and another man were convicted for going about the country playing Indian doctors, thus defrauding the people of their money. Leverter is part Mexican and part negro.

The case was called in the police court this morning and continued until Monday. Hon. E. W. Hagley was employed by the defendant.

Leverter stated to a Six reporter this morning that he was drunk, but he had been on intimate terms with the girl for some time, and it was not too long that he had been in the room. He said old man Hardin gave his consent, but that the young Hardin objected and his presence in what caused all the trouble last night. He said further that he was compelled to move from a house in the same yard with Hardin because of his attention to the girl.

The case against Moll Edwards, charged with using insulting language and being disorderly, was called in the police court this morning and dismissed for want of proof.

J. H. Haydock and his wife, Hattie, were charged with being disorderly. Officers Eaker and Orr arrested them at Seventh and Tennessee streets last night. They were using bad language, and both had been drinking.

The man was trying to get the woman home.

They were fined $3 and the cost each.

Chas. Allen, colored, was taxed $1 and costs for drunkenness.

To the World (18) Sportsman:

It has come to my notice that several prominent "shooters" have been shooting quail in this state near the city.

For their benefit we will state the law is not out until the 15th of November, and in future any violator will be prosecuted. The farmer has been instructed to take the names and report to the local committee.
